

CONTEMPORARY EXPLANATION: Fisher Gallery Education officer Chris King explains to an onlooker Claudia Pond Eyley's Celebration of the Elements as Still Life.

Artwork on display

—Contemporary artists from all over New Zealand have their work on display at Pakuranga's Fisher Gallery.

There are 26 photographs, paintings, ceramic works and sculptures from top New Zealand artists including Pauline Thompson and Don Binney. The show is called Celebration.

Gallery curator Louis Johnston says the display is expected to be well visited as there are items to suit all tastes.

"The variety of works is good as it lets people see the different aspects of contemporary art in this country."

When the exhibition finishes on March 25, Wendy Galvin will start blindmaking classes on March 28.

For more information on the gallery call 569-999.