Takapini Teariki Engu

16 APRIL – 29 MAY

Opening function: Saturday 30 April, 11am

Engu considers his ancestral history, charred wooden posts a reminder of Cook Island religious totems burnt by Christian missionaries. In torching his own work, Engu reignites memory by experiencing both the desolation of the fire's destructive power and the solace of the homefires where his forbears congregated to grieve together. – Ann Poulson
